

Attendance Intervention - BOY 2014-15 Q & A

Q) Is there a way to prevent information in custom tabs from not rolling each year?

A) It may be beneficial for your district to keep this historical data rather than deleting it. Adding a “year” field to the custom tab would assist in differentiating between school years and make the data easier to maintain (i.e. 13-14, 14-15).

Q) Is it possible to create custom tabs for other issues; for example, health?

A) Yes. Custom tabs can be created to accommodate the needs of the district. Just keep in mind that if you create a custom tab you must assign user right access to those who wish to use the tab.

Q) We created a “communication” tab where we enter similar information pertaining to attendance. Is there an advantage of using what we have now versus this recommendation?

A) If the tab you created is benefiting your district you should continue using it. This is an optional, suggested method of tracking attendance interventions. Garnetta Barnett has offered ways for you to create ad hoc reports from the data entered in these custom tabs. You can develop the same type of ad hoc reports for any other custom tab you create.
